

The Latitude and Longitude agreeable to the Spanish Maps in general.

It may not be amiss to add a Translation of some Places in the above Map of Spain adapted to the History, for the Benefit of the English Reader.

The Olive-bearing Betis, now called the Guadalquivir.
Castile New and Old.
The Great Compluto, now Alcala de Henares, the Birth-place of Cervantes.
Ebro River in Aragon.
Gaeta. Qu. if in Spain?
The Strait of Gibraltar.

The Winding Guadiana.
Monjuy. Fort at Barcelona.
Quintanar, near Tobofo.
The Tartesian Fields. From the Authority of the learned Aldrete, those of Andalusia.
Zulema, a Hill in the neighbourhood of Alcala de Henares.